President's Letter

I recently came across the July 1950 addition of Warp & Weft. There are two articles referencing the Duneland Weaver's Guild in it. The first article talks about the 16 members of the Duneland Weaver Guild participating in a three day workshop at Dune Acres Clubhouse. The other article is written by Mrs. Herbert Miller. She gave a summary of Ada K. Dietz's method of using algebraic expressions in handweaving. 73 years later and the Duneland Weaver's Guild is still going strong! I am very honored to be a member of a group of very talented people with a rich history in fiber arts.

Here are some "75" ideas incase you need some inspiration for the Presidents' challenge:

I-75 passes through six different states.

Adjective - being five more than seventy
